Commencement.

The annual commencement exercises of the Mt. Sterling High School were held in the Christian Church Friday evening, June 10th. Music was furnished by Saxon's band, of Lexington.

After the invocation by Rev. H. G. Turner, Mr. Edward Wells, the Class Orator, delivered an oration on "Heroes of Peace." This was followed by a recitation, "Prince," by Miss Mary Lockridge, second honor pupil. Miss Anna Laura Sharp, the first honor pupil, read an essay entitled "From School Life into Life's School." This closed the part taken by the High School pupils in the commencement exercises. These are representatives of the class did themselves proud. Their pieces were, in the main, very practical, and in this respect differed from the usual speeches of such occasions. This quality shows the trend of the thought of the graduates and gives double reason for congratulating them and the town.

The address of the evening was delivered by Dr. E. L. Powell, of Louisville. His subject "Citizenship in the Republic" was handled in the well-known masterly way of the speaker, and won and held the close attention of the large audience. After briefly outlining the fundamental ideal of American citizenship, as found in the Declaration of Independence and as fought for in the war of the Revolution,

GOING TO MOVE!

BEFORE this time next year we will be in our new store on the location now occupied by J. M. Greenway and W. A. Purnell. When we move we propose to open with an entirely new stock, and for this reason we take time by the forelock to close out all spring and summer goods—in many instances at a decided loss to us. Everything in the house will be cut in price from 10 to 50 per cent. except Spool Cotton, Standard Patterns, Spool Silk and Hudnut's Toilet Articles. So anything you purchase will be at a reduction and a saving.

We guarantee to please you.

If you have the bargain instinct these goods and prices will be offered during this Loom End Sale have never before been that right now is the time to apply it.

Every factory and mill in the manufacture of their products accumulate Mill Ends or Loom Ends, as they are commonly called. They are short lengths from the loom generally 1-2 to 10 yards in length. Then they are tied up in great bundles and disposed of by weight, so much for a hundred pounds instead of so much a yard. The price always brings less than the cost of the raw material they are made from. Loom Ends accumulate in all mills, therefore careful buyers, by a persistent system of buying, can secure Loom Ends of every conceivable kind of piece goods that is made.

It will pay you to come 20 miles to attend this sale. The bargains we offer during this, our Third Loom End Sale, are bigger and better than ever.

GREAT LOOM END SALE.

In addition to the 50 cases of Mill Remnant Bargains, our buyers were fortunate in securing a large and choice assortment of seasonable and desirable merchandise which was thrown on the market through a re- sale of one of the largest wholesale stores in the United States. These goods were disposed of at very low prices, and we thought it was better to give our customers and friends the benefit of the bargain than to let the goods go to waste. We now propose to give our customers and friends the benefit of the bargain, and we thought of in Mr. Sterling. It affords an exceptional opportunity of securing new, reasonable and desirable goods right at the very low prices that are being offered.

Jimmy's Remarkable Story.

A school teacher who was giving a lesson on "Papa" was interrupted by one of his pupils.

"Please sir," he said "Jimmy says he knew a baby that was brought up on elephant's milk, and it gained ten pounds in weight every day."

"James ought not to tell you such rubbish," the teacher said.

"James, whose baby was it that was brought up on elephant's milk?"

"Please, sir," answered Jimmy, "It was the elephant's."—Harper's Weekly.

Anderson says he met Higgins on Wilson street, who without any provocation called him a d—b liar and that he retorted by the use of the same language. Then Higgins began shooting, resulting as above stated.

Higgins tells a story very much at variance; that he met Anderson, who held a knife threateningly and he just presented his old 38 Smith & Wesson, which went off. He was running. After the shooting Higgins tried to make his escape but was headed off by policeman William Samuels and posse who arrested and lodged him in jail. Trial is set for next Friday. MASTIC MIXED PAINT for painting houses. The reason's plain. Mastic is the purest, therefore the most durable and economical. There is a whole string of "other fellows" claiming "just as good as Mastic" but they don't prove it. Maybe they can't. The analysis of Mastic is published. It's made of pure lead, zinc and linseed oil—the most durable kind of paint—and its purity is therefore unquestioned.

As purity means durability, the splendid wearing qualities of Mastic have given it the title of "The Kind That Lasts," and this title is backed up by our absolute guarantee. Mastic is made by

DEATHS.

BARNES.—On Monday, June 12, 1905, Mrs. Letitia Barnes died at the home of her son-in-law, John Fogg, this county, near her 83d year. Mrs. Barnes was twice married, her first husband was John Wade. She had only one child, Mrs. John Fogg, with whom she resided when death came. Funeral service at the home yesterday morning conducted by Rev. H. G. Turner, and burial in Machpelah Cemetery.

PEWTER.—One of our best young men was Matthew Charles Pewter, son of John and Mary Pewter, who died Friday, June 9, 1905, at the age of 21 years after an acute attack of peritonitis, which brought suffering for five months. Funeral service was held at the home on Sunday afternoon by Rev. L. de Waegeneere and remains were buried in St. Thomas Cemetery. The service was impressive. Flowers rare and beautiful and friends who came to pay their last respects were many. Matthew was an obedient, attentive son and brother, and his friends were as numerous as his acquaintances. For many years he was a special salesman at T. K. Barnes & Sons.

Position, the moments of weariness and despondency were transmuted to rest and joy. He waited patiently, constantly in prayer for the coming of the end, wanting to live only for mother's and sister's sake. Those from a distance who attended the funeral were: Mrs. Margaret McNamara, Covington; Mrs. T. W. Seehan, New Town; Mr. and Mrs. Ed. McCarty, Mrs. Lizzie Welch, Misses Kate, Josephine and Margaret Clancy, Mrs. Mary Crooks, Lexington; John T. Clancy and Mrs. Patrick Guilfoile, of Carlisle.
